

SIPPING SENSE™ PRESENTS THE WINE GLASS WITH TASTE STIMULATING TEXTURES™ TECHNOLOGY

CRAFTSMANSHIP

"Soon, any wine glass without this technology will be like black-and-white TV compared to this Hi-Def experience."

When your lips and tongue meet the Taste Stimulating Textures™ of this luxury wine glass, touch receptors instantly awaken and send signals to the brain that trigger salivation and heighten sensory awareness. The result? A taste experience that's more vibrant, more intense, and undeniably more pleasurable.

Indulge your palate with innovation. The secret lies in the rim — artfully textured to tease your senses and amplify anticipation. Each sip becomes smoother, richer, and more satisfying as your natural salivation enhances the wine's flavor, body, and finish.

Patented by Roberts Wineware, this groundbreaking design redefines the way we experience wine.

FLAVOR YOU CAN FEEL

Crafted with patented Taste Stimulating Textures™ around the rim, this glass teases your lips and tongue to boost salivation — unlocking smoother, richer wine flavor.

A Personal STORY

I met Darrol Roberts, founder of Roberts Wineware during my wine club days. He had just created his revolutionary glass technology and wanted to test it with our community of wine enthusiasts. I'll admit—I was a bit skeptical at first. But after my first few sips, I became a believer.

As someone with what is called a super palate, I detect layers of sensations and subtle flavors in every glass. What impressed me most was how my Roberts Wineware glass seemed to smooth it all out, bringing harmony and balance to every sip. It turned tasting into a fuller, more connected experience — exactly what I seek when I talk about Sipping Sense.
